WEEK 2: Dignity of Work & Rights of Workers. For a greater respect for the dignity of work and the rights of workers... For employers: may they foster workplaces of dignity and respect... For governments all over the world: may they uphold the common good and ensure a decent wage for those who labor...

Work is more than a way to make a living; it is a form of continuing participation in God's creation. ...work is of fundamental importance to the fulfillment of the human being and to the development of society. Pope Benedict XVI, Apostolic Exhortation on the Eucharist, 2007 no. 74 The obligation to earn one's bread by the sweat of one's brow also presumes the right to do so. St. John Paul II, Centesimus Annus, no. 43

Dignity of Work & Rights of Workers iVoteCatholic: During this second week, we focus on the Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers. In our Catholic tradition, work is more than just a way to make a living; work is one of the ways we participate in the ongoing work of creation in our world. Those who are responsible for the employment of people have a special responsibility to make decisions that uphold the dignity and safety of workers and their rights. Those rights include being able to earn fair wages, to have productive work, and to have a say in decisions that affect them, including the right to organize. Under this principle fall issues such as living wages, fair hiring practices, availability of job training/skills, discrepancy in employment for women and minorities, and job availability for thriving not just surviving. We have challenging work ahead of us! During this election season, the Archdiocese of Cincinnati will be offering prayers, scripture, quotes, family activities and discerning questions through the lens of the seven principles of Catholic Social Teaching to aid the discerning vote. We will not be telling you for whom or what to vote. We will be encouraging careful discernment, intentional prayer, and a universal call to holiness and compassion to inform your voting. Find out more at www.iVoteCatholic.org.

CLERGY COMMUNICATIONS

iVoteCatholic.org IS HERE FOR YOU! The current political climate is extremely challenging. During this election season, we invite you to immerse yourself in the Church's teaching and gain a fuller understanding of the Church's commitment to a consistent ethic of life which guides us to be advocates for a variety of issues related to life and human dignity. iVoteCatholic.org offers a full complement of resources – communication, catechetical, liturgical, and more – that can be used throughout the season at home, in your Family of Parishes, and in the broader community. SERMON ON JOHN 6:41-51

My 2014 pilgrimage to Rome where the Pope lives and to Assisi where St. Francis lived had a profound effect on how I live. That visit brought into crystal clarity what God wants me to do.

Our group of pilgrims went to Assisi to visit the church where St. Francis prayed. Our Franciscan tour guide talked about the paintings on the church walls depicting the life of St. Francis. One picture showed where Francis stood before the bishop and publicly disowned his father’s worldly riches so he could live totally for God in poverty. He even gave back all his clothes to his father, Bernadone. There is a dramatic scene where the bishop covers Francis with his own robe.

The Franciscan friar remarked, “I know God will never leave me. I pray I never leave Him.” At that comment, I jokingly pointed my finger at our group and shook it as if I were judging them. The friar looked at me intently and said, “Father, you are an instrument of God’s love, not judgement. God uses your finger like a hook to draw others into His Mercy.” He smiled saying, “I see this in you.” He knew me, though I never met this friar before. I felt like God was speaking to me.

Jesus says, “ No one can come to me unless the father who sent me draws him.” (John 6:44) Jesus came to draw everyone into a friendship with God. You are called to help God do this. What must I do to help?

Jesus provides the answer in John 6:45 “They will all be taught by God. Everyone who has heard the Father and learned from him comes to me.” Our mission is to help others “hear” and “learn” about God. The most powerful way to do that is by the example of your own life. St. Francis said, “Preach the gospel at all times. And if necessary, use words.” Example is always more powerful than just using words. If you teach that God is merciful, be merciful. If you teach that God is loving, be loving. If you teach that God is caring, then go and do the same. That’s how you “hook” in others, leading them to Jesus. Many people have joined our Christian Catholic family because they saw us loving as Jesus commanded us to do. What drew me back to the seminary to finish my studies for priesthood was the example of Fr. Ed Connelly.

He touched me with acceptance and “hooked” me back to Jesus. He loved me when others in the church saw me as a failure because I left the seminary.

This is what I so love about Jesus that draws me to Him. Jesus reached out to touch others that no one else would touch. Here is a list of five groups of people that Jesus touched when no one else would.

1. Women. He chose the five-times-divorced woman to spread the Good News.
2. The Unclean. He touched lepers considered the most untouchable of all humans.
3. The Poor. He affirmed them as specially loved by God.
4. The Oppressors. He praised a Roman Centurian as having more faith than anyone in Israel, including the Jewish church leaders.
5. Racial Enemies. Jesus praised a half-breed Samaritan who showed compassion to the robbed man left for dead. (Luke 10:25-37).

Jesus never considered them as “other.” They, too, were children of God. If Jesus were walking the earth today, He would be touching those considered by some as untouchable in our society: the gays, the trans-gendered, people of color, Asians, Hispanics, immigrants, the mentally disabled, conservatives or progressives or anyone we consider to be “other” and not one of “us.”

At the Last Supper, Jesus gave His flesh in the form of bread for the life of the world. “Then he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, saying, ‘Drink from it, all of you.’” (Matthew 26:27) Jesus draws everyone to His Father. There is no “other” in the Kingdom of God. He calls you to use the example of your life to hook them in. Blessings...Fr. Mike
